

2011-2012 Ski Season Winding Up

Well, it's March and it's very warm in the Midwest – too warm! We've been in the 60s and might hit 70 pretty soon. Bye, bye snow!

It was another great season. I improved my skiing and gave a lot of lessons. I got to teach more intermediate lessons to kids and adults. Those were fun and I enjoyed meeting new people.

I did a trip up to the U. P. (Upper Peninsula of Michigan for all you non-Midwesterners) and then I also plan to get up to Lutsen in early April – so it's not quite over yet!

Ski Ya!
-Tony

Original article: <https://www.skiwithtony.com/2011-2012-ski-season-winding-up/>