

Passed the PSIA Level 1 Exam!

Wow, what a fun weekend and vacation. Karl and I got up there on Thursday night. We skied Friday. I demoed some skis and then went to MC Sports where they were having a huge clearance sale and I picked up some new Head 300i skis (163mm, 14.1 radius) and Salomon boots. I then “tested” them and had the clinic and exam Saturday and Sunday. We had a great class, great examiner and we all really learned a lot. It’s too bad that it’s the end of the ski season, but I’m glad I learned a lot and took this training.
