

Ski Trip 2007

Karl and I are up here in Marquette, MI skiing at Marquette Ski Mountain. It's pretty nice. Not as big as Indianhead, but we're enjoying it. Today had some great skiing.

I ended picking up new skis and boots today since I found a great sale at MC Sports. I got some Head, high performance skis (162s) and some Salomon boots, which are SO much nicer – my feet don't hurt now! ?

Tomorrow is my clinic day for my exam and then the exam is Sunday morning. We took 3 pictures and I've put them in the new Photos section of this site – under Skiing. Check em out.

Oh and there's an hour time difference up here, so it was light out until 8pm tonight – weird.
