

We Have Snow

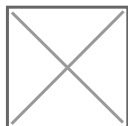

Cascade Mountain is making snow now. It's no wonder, it's cold enough. We have our orientation meeting on Sunday and then we may open by the 22nd, I've heard. Nice!

Update:

We're trying to open this Saturday. Here's an updated photo (from the webcam):

There will probably be just 2 runs open: the North Wall (black) and Schoolmarm (green).

Doesn't that just look cold with the snow guns going?? Brrr!

Update:

I was up there Monday night and the snow guns were going full steam. Here's are 2 pictures:

Temps seem good. We're waiting for the official word, but I would bet we'll be open this Sat and Sunday. Next week I would guess we will not be open until Friday and then we'll probably be open for good / normal hours. That's my guess.
